

Tomorrow's The Big Day at the John Q. Hammons Center in Rogers, Arkansas

An INVITATION to Discover the Emergence of Arkansas' 21st Century Growth Economy
The Arkansas Venture Forum and its Statewide Volunteers invite you to attend

Arkansas Venture Forum's 5th Annual VENTURE CONFERENCE
2006

November 16 and 17, 2006
John Q. Hammons Center, Rogers, Arkansas

The complex block features a background image of an antelope (likely a pronghorn) in a natural setting, with a warm, golden light. The text is overlaid on a dark, curved banner that follows the shape of the antelope's head and neck. The bottom portion of the banner is a solid red color, providing a high-contrast background for the white text.

More Highlights

- We will receive insight on how Wal-Mart views sustainability.
- There will be a keynote address from the most respected global investment banking firm's private equity group, covering the process for making investment decisions for energy and alternative energy investments in the most dynamic period for both in decades.
- We will hear from where Arkansas' 21st century growth economy could emerge in six high-potential clusters.
- We will hear from ten presenting companies that, to quote Steve Hankins of Next Steps for Your Business from the Selection Committee, "will represent to the Venture Conference attendees an exciting portfolio of emerging business opportunities that are being pursued from within Arkansas."
- We will hear from the Venture Capital Panel, led for the fifth consecutive year by Dana Silaski of Stephens Inc. and representative of a great group of venture capitalists--including Arkansas' own Larry Carter of Diamond State Ventures.

Don't miss this unique chance to hear from Tom Szaky, Dan Sanker and Konnin Tam about entrepreneurship, fast-track commercialization and venture capitalism. Click on the link below or the Arkansas Venture Forum logo to register to attend the 2006 Arkansas Venture Conference!
